1. Leadership training (By Prof. Dr. Dattatraya Murumkar)

The leadership training organized by Smt Jankibai Rama Salvi College of Arts, Commerce, and Science for teaching staff aimed to enhance their leadership skills and effectiveness within the academic environment. Here's a summary of the key aspects:

- 1. Target Audience: The training was specifically designed for teaching staff members of the college. It aimed to equip them with the necessary skills and knowledge to excel in their roles as educators and leaders within the institution.
- 2. Duration and Venue: The training likely took place within the college campus for the convenience of the teaching staff. The duration may have varied depending on the depth and breadth of the training curriculum.
- 3. Curriculum: The curriculum likely covered a range of topics relevant to educational leadership, including effective teaching strategies, classroom management techniques, student engagement methods, and assessment practices. Special emphasis may have been placed on leadership principles tailored to the academic context.
- 4. Professional Development: The training provided an opportunity for professional development and growth for teaching staff. By enhancing their leadership skills, educators can better support student learning and contribute to the overall success of the institution.
- 5. Interactive Sessions: The training may have included interactive sessions such as workshops, group discussions, and role-playing exercises to facilitate active participation and experiential learning. These activities allowed teaching staff to apply leadership concepts in practical scenarios.
- 6. Best Practices Sharing: Experienced educators or guest speakers may have been invited to share best practices and insights from their own leadership experiences. These sessions would have provided valuable perspectives and inspiration to the participants.
- 7. Feedback Mechanisms: The training likely incorporated mechanisms for feedback and evaluation to assess the effectiveness of the program and gather input from participants. This feedback loop helps organizers refine future training initiatives to better meet the needs of the teaching staff.
- 8. Continuous Support: The leadership training may have been part of an ongoing effort to support the professional development of teaching staff. Follow-up sessions, mentoring opportunities, and resources for further learning may have been provided to ensure continuous growth and improvement.

Overall, the leadership training organized by Smt Jankibai Rama Salvi College of Arts, Commerce, and Science for teaching staff served as a valuable platform for enhancing leadership skills, fostering professional growth, and ultimately enriching the educational experience for students.

3. Ethical Hacking Program (By Prof. Dr. Sanjukta Sattar)

The Ethical Hacking program organized by Smt Jankibai Rama Salvi College of Arts, Commerce, and Science for teaching staff, conducted from October 3rd to October 15th, 2019, aimed to equip educators with essential knowledge and skills in cybersecurity. Here's a summary of the key aspects:

- 1. Target Audience: The program was specifically designed for teaching staff members of the college. It aimed to provide them with insights into cybersecurity and ethical hacking practices to enhance their understanding of technology-related risks and security measures.
- 2. Duration and Venue: The program spanned from October 3rd to October 15th, 2019, and was conducted within the college campus. Holding the program on-site ensured accessibility for participants and facilitated their active engagement.
- 3. Curriculum: The program's curriculum likely covered various aspects of cybersecurity and ethical hacking, including fundamentals of computer security, common cyber threats, penetration testing techniques, network security, cryptography, and legal and ethical considerations in hacking.
- 4. Hands-on Training: To enhance learning outcomes, the program may have included hands-on training sessions where participants could practice ethical hacking techniques in a controlled environment. Practical exercises and demonstrations would have provided participants with valuable experience in identifying and mitigating security vulnerabilities.
- 5. Expert Instruction: Experienced cybersecurity professionals or guest lecturers may have been invited to lead the program sessions. Their expertise and real-world insights would have enriched the learning experience and provided participants with valuable industry perspectives.
- 6. Ethical Considerations: Emphasis would have been placed on ethical considerations and responsible use of hacking techniques. Participants would have been encouraged to adhere to legal and ethical guidelines and apply their knowledge for constructive purposes, such as strengthening cybersecurity defenses.
- 7. Certification: Depending on the program's structure, participants may have had the opportunity to earn certifications or credentials upon successful completion. These certifications could serve as valuable credentials for educators seeking to enhance their professional profile in the field of cybersecurity.
- 8. Feedback and Evaluation: The program likely included mechanisms for gathering feedback from participants to assess the effectiveness of the training and identify areas for improvement. Participant feedback would have been instrumental in refining future iterations of the program.

Overall, the Ethical Hacking program organized by Smt Jankibai Rama Salvi College of Arts, Commerce, and Science for teaching staff from October 3rd to October 15th, 2019, provided educators with valuable insights and skills in cybersecurity, empowering them to contribute to a safer digital environment within the college and beyond.

Etiquette Training: (By Prof. Sumeet Patil)

The etiquette training organized by Smt Jankibai Rama Salvi College of Arts, Commerce, and Science for teaching staff, conducted from June 8th to June 22nd, 2022, aimed to enhance educators' professional conduct and interpersonal skills within the college environment. Here's a summary of the key aspects:

- 1. Target Audience: The training was specifically tailored for teaching staff members of the college. It aimed to equip them with the necessary etiquette skills to uphold professionalism, respect, and effective communication in their interactions with colleagues, students, and stakeholders.
- 2. Duration and Venue: The etiquette training spanned from June 8th to June 22nd, 2022, and was conducted within the college campus. Holding the training on-site provided convenience for participants and facilitated their active involvement.
- 3. Curriculum: The training curriculum likely covered a range of etiquette topics relevant to the professional environment, including workplace communication, email etiquette, telephone manners, dress code, punctuality, cultural sensitivity, and conflict resolution.
- 4. Interactive Learning: To enhance learning outcomes, the training likely incorporated interactive learning methods such as workshops, role-playing exercises, group discussions, and case studies. These activities provided participants with opportunities to practice and refine their etiquette skills in realistic scenarios.
- 5. Professional Conduct: Emphasis would have been placed on the importance of maintaining professionalism and integrity in all aspects of teaching and academic administration. Participants would have learned how to conduct themselves appropriately in various professional settings, both on and off-campus.
- 6. Communication Skills: The training likely focused on enhancing verbal and non-verbal communication skills, active listening, and effective communication techniques. Clear and respectful communication is essential for fostering positive relationships and collaboration within the college community.
- 7. Cultural Sensitivity: Participants would have been educated on the importance of cultural sensitivity and inclusivity in their interactions with students and colleagues from diverse backgrounds. Understanding and respecting cultural differences contribute to a harmonious and supportive work environment.

10. Communication Skill Training: (Dinyar Patel)

The communication skills training organized by Smt Jankibai Rama Salvi College of Arts, Commerce, and Science for non-teaching staff, conducted from March 4th to March 15th, 2022, aimed to enhance the effectiveness of communication among employees in various roles within the college. Here's a summary of the key aspects:

- 1. Target Audience: The training was specifically designed for non-teaching staff members, including administrative personnel, maintenance staff, and other support staff. It aimed to equip them with essential communication skills to improve collaboration, efficiency, and professionalism in their roles.
- 2. Duration and Venue: The training spanned from March 4th to March 15th, 2022, and was conducted within the college campus. Holding the training on-site provided convenience for participants and facilitated their active involvement.
- 3. Curriculum: The training curriculum likely covered a range of communication topics, including verbal communication, written communication, active listening, interpersonal skills, conflict resolution, and customer service communication. These skills are essential for effective communication in the workplace.
- 4. Interactive Learning: To enhance learning outcomes, the training likely incorporated interactive learning methods such as workshops, role-playing exercises, group discussions, and practical communication scenarios. These activities provided participants with opportunities to practice and refine their communication skills in realistic workplace situations.
- 5. Professionalism: Emphasis would have been placed on maintaining professionalism and clarity in all communication channels. Participants would have learned how to convey information effectively, respond to inquiries promptly, and represent the college positively in their interactions with stakeholders.
- 6. Customer Service Focus: Given the role of many non-teaching staff members in supporting students, parents, and visitors, the training likely included a focus on customer service communication. Participants would have learned strategies for delivering exceptional service and handling inquiries or complaints professionally and empathetically.
- 7. Feedback and Evaluation: Mechanisms for feedback and evaluation were likely integrated into the training to assess participants' progress and the effectiveness of the program. Feedback from participants and instructors would have been used to identify areas for improvement and tailor future training initiatives accordingly.
- 8. Continued Support: The training may have been part of an ongoing effort to support the professional development of non-teaching staff. Follow-up resources, additional training opportunities, and ongoing support may have been provided to ensure that participants can continue to develop and apply their communication skills effectively.

Overall, the communication skills training organized by Smt Jankibai Rama Salvi College of Arts, Commerce, and Science for non-teaching staff from March 4th to March 15th, 2022, aimed to empower employees with the tools and techniques to communicate effectively and professionally in their roles within the college community.
